FREE READERS FOR ALBERTA PUPILS.

Readers will be provided free to pupils in the common schools of Alberta. This is a step, and a long one, in the right direction. It has already been hinted that a practical volume on agriculture may also be supplied gratis in the near future; and in time the list may be broadened to include all the requirements for leading up to the school work. As the readers are the most important of these, the beginning has been made in the proper place. This will free the pupils from a disability sometimes placed on them by circumstances beyond their control. In Alberta there are probably at present very few parents unable or unwilling to supply their children with the necessary school books; each is not always the case in every family. In some cases, however, the problem of buying school books is a troublesome one to parents with large families and small means. Occasionally, too, the misfortune of a child to be born of parents too miserly to equip him with the necessities of school life. So far as the most important books in the public school course are concerned no Alberta pupil will be thus handicapped by the poor circumstances of either of his parents; and it will be possible in the near future to extend this provision to the other books required for the acquirement of a common school education.

So far as the Bulletin is aware Al has been instrumental in making the supply of Canadian books a part of the provincial educational system. Usually this question is left to the individual school boards and deals with as they desire or consider necessary. In Toronto, however, the school authorities are provided free from the Dominion taxes; but in most of the other urban districts of Ontario and in the rural districts the duty of supplying these rests upon the parents. It is an understood rule of course that school books are to be supplied gratis to children whose parents are unable to do so. But this makes no provision for the child whose parents can do so but will not do so. And where the rule applies it is objectionable. It throw upon the child or the parent the necessity of finding extra money to obtain the needed books, a burden which no child should be forced to make and which neither child nor parent will make except under pressure. A child is much more likely to play truant than to meet the strained circumstances of the straitened circumstances of the household; and a parent is much more likely to give in at its doing so than to insist on attendance when attendance means the confession of the humiliating truth. To be just, therefore, the rule must be general. It books are to be supplied gratis to all who are entitled to all, then let the "free book" subjects a child to the drags of his companions, and draw attention to the unfortunate circumstances of a family whose only solace is usually that they are poor.

A LOSING RACE.

The manufacturers of our prospective telephone system have a week-long race in which to claim their machinery here or there before the final inspection. The appearances are that they will not make the grade. On Thursday came a wire from the city's representative in Peckhamport stating that the Company had omitted to send the trunking wires to make connection with the telephone system. What instructions had been given the Company agent the attachment of trunking wires. Apparently the Company had represented to Mr. Taylor that they did not know whether such were necessary or not. Either this was a statement of fact or merely a rose. If it is a statement of fact, it means that the Company do not even know yet what kind of a system they are trying to build; if not a statement of fact, it can only have been added to the original statement of fact. In either event, the chances of the system being landed here by Feb 8th and installed by March 1st are very, very slim; and in either event the city council would be justified in declining to extend the time. If the Company have not yet even learned what they are making it is time to give some one with quicker perception a chance to see what they are doing without having to learn it as an excuse for further delay. It is time to put some speedier manufacturers on the job. Edmonton needs an efficient telephone system, and needs it forthwith. The present Company have been given ample time in which to do their best. If they fail to do so, there is no need for permitting them to procrastinate further at the expense of the city and the inconvenience of the telephone users.

CANADA FOR

A certain teacher, signing himself C. L. Price, Stoney Plain, Alta., and presumably a teacher, writes the Montreal Witness in a strain that is at least unique. Starting from the two propositions that "Canada must be kept a white man's country," and that "Canada must be for Canadians," he reaches some conclusions which might be regarded as at least remarkable.

For example: "At the risk of meeting the wastepaper basket, Mr. Editor, I must mention another matter in this connection. We are forced to live upon my mind since early last year. Why is it that we Canadians allow a full hundred thousand of the red race to dwell right in our midst? Considering that this is to be a 'white man's country' we have no right to live for allowing them to remain here and take the very bread out of the mouths of our trappers and hunters and forest guides? Certainly in matters of hygiene and social life we are not one whit superior to the red race. Why is it that the government would only shut out competition from the Eastern Provinces and Great Britain that we teachers already here could command salaries of one or two hundred dollars a year?"

The logic here is rather dumber than elsewhere. How "Canada for the Canadians" can be quoted as an argument for excluding teachers born in other provinces is not revealed. This is said, for the wholesale application of the talents of one's colleagues from another Province—to wit, a "loyalist from New Brunswick." And unless, it seems, his yawning gap would be left in our western literature. Clearly the Indian must be subject to some special indignity, or else he would be "banned down to Mexico or southward" or some other country where they will not compete with our honest Canadian workers?"

The necessity of an "excuse" for venturing people who would like us to live here is rather rankly displayed.

It is paralleled by the disclosure that so far from the white man being the invader who trespasses on the Indian's territory, destruction is traditional means of obtaining a victory and reducing him to misery and dependence. Who, in the Indian's mind, practices the iniquity of the white, and should therefore be hunted off the earth, appeal to our honesty to complete this tragic comedy by a nation's crime is quite in keeping with the Indian's way of thinking.

There are other troubles on the Indian's mind. He has it for anyone who dares to burn out side the bounds of the Dominion, and considers that a flaming shame should be cast upon the Indian who dares to do so. And the Indian thinks that the party friends at the public crib? So far the party appears to have made no considerable advance from the days when they caricatured a syndicate with 30,000,000,000 in the pockets of the party leaders, and their friends, and no one may object if they see fit to drop it for one less tragic with undesirable associations. But it will require some demonstration to prove the title unworthy the parliamentary group of the Interior bargained for the whole herd, supposed to contain 650 animals. The price paid was $200 per head, and $45 per head for expenses of corralling and transportation. The returns show that there are 366 buffalo in the park.

The park is fenced. The work of clearing of the fence, and the fencing was done by contract for $1000. The lowest bidder received the contract.

To a further question the answers were that tenders had been called for the herd and a supply obtained at $30.00 and $10.40 per ton.

RESCUE OF THE NAME.

The Winnipeg Telegram has boasted of the party name, intimating that as a "touchstone of party allegiance" it is not up to much, and better than the name they bear. The effectiveness of the name as a "touchstone" of party allegiance is not up to much, and better than the name they bear. The party which practices the iniquity of the white, and should therefore be hunted off the earth, appeal to our honesty to complete this tragic comedy by a nation's crime is quite in keeping with the Indian's way of thinking.

Again, when I came to this glorious West (a Loyalist, mind you) from New Brunswick I came to better my financial prospects. True, I never wanted for work and could get it easily. Why is it that the Indians might have been better but for the unwise policy of our government in allowing Germans and Swedes and Yankees to come over here to the thousands and appropriate our Canadian lands. Our good home, Canada, that bright land, had settled upon her an Indian goal, industrial citizens, certainly, but what of that? He was not "white" and I am! All around here I find the best of the land taken up by foreigners from Germany and Austria. They work hard, save their money, and are generally more thrifty than some others like myself, good Canadian citizens from the eastern provinces. Now, why cannot our government exclude these foreign laborers? It is the name which breathes the memories of the old regime must characterize the impenitents in the public mind.

IN MEMORIAM.

Some time ago the sky ordered an incinerator. Some time later the smoke-stack and some other portions of the apparatus came along, and the company were paid $10,000 of the purchase money. The remainder of the machine has not yet appeared, and the company have not yet been paid. Justly doubtful as to whether we want this particular kind of incinerator or not. Winnipeg installed one last year, tried it and refused to pay for it as the ground that it would not incinerate. The city and the makers have been hopped nobly in a legal fight. Regina installed one, apparently found that it wouldn't incinerate there either, and would willingly give the Company something more than the machine to take it away. Now even remembering our more favorable climate and other conditions, it is remarkable that the makers of this incinerator that will not incinerate in Regina or Regina will not incinerate in Edmonton. This is the point of present interest, and the point is very well taken. We have paid over $1000 for which it is intended, I am sure very truly.

HUDSON BAY COMPANY

EDMONTON'S NEW Y.M.C.A. BUILDING

To be Formally Opened by Pleasing Ceremonies on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. A $70,000 Building. The History of the Organization Movement.

The formal open of the Young Men's Christian Association in Edmonton will be held in the new building on the corner of Howard street, on Tuesday, January 30th. An elaborate programme has been prepared in order that the building may be opened at a time when it will well mark the occasion as a memorable one, both in the history of Y.M.C.A. work in Canada and the Association movement throughout the whole city as well.

On Tuesday a meeting will be held in the hall of the new building at 8 o'clock. The ministers of the city, the contributors to the building, the officers and the members of the association will attend this meeting.

A formal opening ceremony of the Montreal association, now on its way west and will be present at the meeting.

An opportunity will be given those who attended to inspect the new building.

On Wednesday the formal opening of the new building will take place, commencing at eight o'clock. The officers and the members of the association are cordially invited.

Address will be delivered by Hon. George L. Thompson, Pittsburg, Pa.

Major-General A. McDougall, Rev. Dr. D. G. McQueen, E. M. Terry, D. M. D. S. C., LL.D., Dr. A. H. Macpherson, Dr. J. W. Thompson, Dr. W. G. Thompson, and Mr. W. G. Thompson.

The entire building will be opened to the citizens of Edmonton and an opportunity will be given to all to inspect the new headquarters of the Y.M.C.A.

It is to be well in many respects to second to none in Canada.

On Thursday afternoon, 4.30 p.m., a general meeting will be given an opportunity to go through the building.

Buidling Cost $70,000.

The new building, which will be formally opened next week, will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000, including the site.

Interest on this amount has been raised by public subscription, young and old men, and women, chowdron work and indeed all subjects of benefit to young men. Ten thousand dollars is required to form a class. Competent instructors in the different branches of the Y.M.C.A. will be the part of the building to be devoted to boys' work another important branch of the Y.M.C.A. work in Edmonton.

The third and four floors are divided into dormitories, two dormitories, so that when required they may be turned into one large room and used in the course of the work, which will mean as much to the young men of the city.

A large hall will be available for social and an organized effort will be made shortly to free the association from debt.

The Class Room.

On the second floor are four class rooms, each containing 40 seats, so that when required they may be turned into one large room and used in the course of the work, which will mean as much to the young men of the city.

A large hall will be available for social and an organized effort will be made shortly to free the association from debt.

The Lecture Arrangement.

The interior of the building is very suitable fitted up throughout turning the building itself with the general arrangement.

A massive and somewhat imposing entrance leads into a spacious rotunda, including the main entrance, the Post Room, a large piano, sunburst lighting and add much to the effect of the room which is a style of architecture of which is a model of the Y.M.C.A. building in Washington. In one corner of the room is a small office which is also a private office of the secretary. Another corner is used for the library, which is about seven feet at the other end. There are also locker rooms, shower baths and lavatory. A door opens from the large room on the east side of the basement which will later be fitted up for a swimming pool.

Men Who Have Charged.

The active work of the association has been done by a number of experienced and capable men. J. W. Thompson, the newly appointed secretary of the Y.M.C.A. of the United States, is here to inspect the new building.

The Y.M.C.A. has not been organized in Edmonton of any note since 1906, when the first 100 books were being received constantly, whilst the number and range of reading books is now over 10,000.

On the basis of the present work of the Y.M.C.A. in Edmonton, George H. Thompson, Pittsburg, Pa., is a graduate of the Kentucky Wesleyan College. He has been here for several years, being engaged in the state Y.M.C.A. work in Memphis, Tenn., and in the Y.M.C.A. work in Canada both in Y.M.C.A. work and in athletic circles and general sports. He is the author of "The Young Men's Christian Association," which he is secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Edmonton. The association was started over fifty years ago, and at that time a poor cleric thought he would do something to help the poor. When he did, he organized a society of young men for mutual entertainment and improvement, and his idea spread until his branches in all parts of the world and is doing one of the greatest things for the world.

The boy's department largely to the boy's dependence on the secretaries, which he is secretary.

G. R. Jackson, the physical director, has been in the military college at Kingston and was also interested in the C.M.B. in America.

Lucien C. Warman, of New York, is the present president of the Y.M.C.A. in New York.

where meals will be served to the members of the association demands. This will be extended as the occasion demands.

In the basement of the building is a large hall, which is used for dancing and will be well patronized by the Association members. It is 32 x 15 feet and about 3½ feet deep, with a capacity of about 100 people.

He is the manager of the Y.M.C.A. property, he has used until the new building was completed, and has been very well patronized.

The present board of directors of the Y.M.C.A. decided that the best method of carrying on the work of this association was to have a permanent and paid secretary, and the Association members voted to elect J. C. Clowes as the most selected for this position. He is 32 x 15 feet and about 3½ feet deep, with a capacity of about 100 people.

The Clover Bar and East Clover Bar branches of the Alberta Farmers' association had a most interesting entertainment last night in the school house at Clover Bar. Over 300 people were present, including the members of the legislature who were present by special invitation and spoke to the farmers on the subject of the election. The object of the gathering was to give the farmers of the districts an idea of the aims and achievements of the Alberta Farmers' Association. Mr. Joshua Fletcher, of Enderby, president of the Alberta Farmers' association, addressed the audience. Premier Rutherford was also present. In his speech Mr. Fletcher told the farmers that the government proposed taking the construction of roads in the west out of the hands of the local improvement boards and putting it under the minister of public works. He also referred to the establishment of a farmers canning and packing factory, stating that the government would be co-operating with the farmers of the province in the most feasible way to ensure success.

Before the program, which was given in the school house, the guests of the association enjoyed a delicious oyster supper in the lounge room, the church and the parsonage said judiciously that there was no reason why there was no financial strength in the Clover Bar district. A large sum of money was collected and turned over and gave grace and vivacity to the entertainment by a program of songs and dramatic readings before the speeches.

Mr. W. F. Stevens, secretary of the Alberta Farmers' association, spoke. Before he proceeded with the chairman's address he called upon Mr. Fletcher to speak. In his opening speech Mr. Fletcher stated that it was in the interest of the province that the government pass and formulate of the constitution of the provincial organization of the Alberta Farmers' Association. His speech was consummate. He outlined the aims of the association with human interest and enthusiasm. The Alberta Farmers' association was won over by the spirit of the west, which was evident throughout his address.

Before calling upon the speaker of the evening three resolutions were introduced which were voted down. One resolution protested against the transfer of road construction from the local improvement boards to the department of public works. The second resolution contained strong statements regarding the improvement of the four roads leading into Edmonton. The third resolution was an appeal to the government to have the local improvement and packing houses along lines co-operative to that of the government.

President Fletcher's Address.

President Joshua Fletcher, of the Alberta Farmers' association, spoke strongly in favor of the association as a means of promoting union and esprit de corps among the greatest class of the population. He referred to the great success of the annual convention in Edmonton last month and the many results since its inception three years ago. The Alberta Farmers' association had met numerous hindrances both internal and external to the progress and eliminated the suspicion that formerly existed. He singled out the great Manitoba delegation as the great enemy of the farmers. The Alberta Farmers' association had been instrumental in bringing forward and supported Mr. Fletcher's words that the farmers' interests in the west were paramount.

The organization had exalted its strength against the grain exchange and the grain companies and had commissions to investigate both these with beneficial results, though in the best of all possible ways. The evidence had not been discovered to prove a combination. He denounced the British Columbia grain companies for having trodden the rights of the people of the west without regard to any but their own interests. He referred to the Asiatic pest. He referred to this question especially as it affected the grain companies and removed from the ranks of politics and was practically settled. Continuing his speech he said:

He import Chinnam and cited the action of the federal government in making the Chinese Exclusion Act. Referring to Japanese immigration he stated that Mr. King discovered that in less than 12 months there were 5000 Japanese in Canada, all but a few hundred of whom had been brought through the influence of the Canadian government. The Japanese for development work. There was enough men in Canada at the present time to do such work. He concluded by giving the recommendations of the com-mision their most serious consideration. He commended the splendid work done on behalf of the farmers by the Alberta Farmers' association both locally and in the legislative assembly. He declared that the grain standards board was no friend to the farmer and that it was an extra statutory grade for Alberta oats, and spoke in favor of further legislation.

John T. Morris, M.P.P., expressed his pleasure at the opportunity of meeting the people of the west. He referred to the speech of President Fletcher for the courageous expression of his convictions on behalf of the farmers of the west. He said that God had the farmers of the province of Alberta.

Several other members of the legislature were on the program, but on account of the lateness of the hour, the speakers were limited in time and the meeting concluded at one o'clock.

One of the members of the legislature included Messrs. F. A. Walker, A. Brick, J. R. Boyle, J. R. McLeod, John McPherson, John Macvean.

Mr. A. B. Watt, of the Alberta Farmers' association, said Mr. Watt was among the invited guests.

Excellent numbers were contributed to the program by Mrs. Anna, Miss Neddie Jackson and Mr. J. Uren.

Jewel Custodian Derelict.

London, Jan. 31.—The commission which investigated the disappearance of the jewels from Dublin cast doubt on the story of the crime of Sir Patrick Stewart reported to Parliament that the safe must have been opened by a key and could not accept the theory that the safe was broken open.

He knew many Conservatives who would take off their coats any day and stand up for the corporation, but he was aggressive and consistent fight against corporate greed. Corporations, he said, were the enemies of the farmer, the working man, the home owner, the youth, the old, the sick.

In conclusion he spoke in favor of a government which would make the country a better place to live in.

Miss Ethel Uren entertained the audience to an excellent characterization of the various tendencies between the Scotch miners and her favorite type.

The Premier Spoke.

Premier Rutherford was received with applause and expressed his pleasure at meeting his many friends in the city. He addressed a western audience. He complimented Mr. Fletcher and the members of the legislature and the many asthmatic suggestions. Referring to the question raised by Mr. Fletcher, he said that the Alberta Farmers' Association should make it compulsory.

By the flag over our public schools, he said, we have made a good start.

Miss Ethel Uren entertained the audience to an excellent characterization of the various tendencies between the Scotch miners and her favorite type.

GROWING GIRLS NEED PINK PILLS

This Topic is Necessary for Their Proper Development and to Insure Health and Strength.

There are throughout Canada thousands of thousands of young girls who are in constant need of medical attention. The complexion is pale or sallow. Appetite feeble, the pulse weak or going up and down, the heart enlarged, a violently palpitating heart, headache and dizziness often adds to their misery. No one can learn English which is common English, never speak clearly. These are just one sure and certain cure for this trouble. William's Pink Pills. These pills make skin rich and blood, strengthen every nerve and bring health to pale faces. Do not waste time and money on patent medicines with other medicines. Do not waste time and money in a hospital bed. See Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will cure any case of disease and see you strong and healthy.

President Fletcher in his additional pointed out that as yet the provincial government had not drawn a drainage line. The premier replied that the drainage line was now being run and the water still left in control of the local improvement board and not transferred to the department and not transferred to the department. He said that such a policy had not been proposed by the government, but was proposed by the government, and was not adopted.

One point dealt with then was the resolution submitted and adopted at the meeting. With respect to the resolution, he said that the resolution was still left in control of the local improvement board and not transferred to the department. He said that such a policy had not been proposed by the government, but was proposed by the government, and was not adopted.

The opening of the fourteenth session was an old question which could be adjusted by a grant.

The establishment of a bed caring institution for the aged and infirm was once a serious undertaking. He thanked the Alberta Farmers' Association for their support of the efforts of the farmers in the work of fighting the bed combine. If the government did not care for that, it would be necessary for them to procure a home for the aged and infirm. The government might cooperate with the farmers, operate, handle and manage the home. The premier said that the government to any definite policy the premier stated he would like to see the government take care of the aged and infirm.

The premier expressed himself heartily accord with the splendid work of the Farmers' Sun in Ontario. He referred to this question especially as it affected the grain companies and eliminated the suspicion that formerly existed. He singled out the great Manitoba delegation as the great enemy of the farmers. The Alberta Farmers' association had been instrumental in bringing forward and supported Mr. Fletcher's words that the farmers' interests in the west were paramount.
